Dear Bill,

Hour 11/30, as the letter I sent you that probably had not yet reached you reported, that order was in fine shape, we appreciate it very much, and will use all of it.

On a heater that can plug into the cigarette lighter receptacle, busy as you are do not take time looking for one. It is not cold enough where you live anyway, is it? I've asked Dave Wrone to inquire in Wisconsin, where it does get cold.

I've just realized how much less cold I can take this year than last, too. The temperature was about 32 and the branches on the trees seemed to be pretty still so I walked out for the mail. Then I felt a cold wind so I breathed in through my cupped, gloved hand. But it was still too much and by the time I was back in the house I continued to feel it.

Two hours later my left hand still feels cold.

So, I'll be driving out for the mail.

Thanks and best to you all,

Harold
